

This hike starts in the parking lot and crosses the fire road twice with trail markers at each crossing. The hike is through Oak trees and climbs steadily up the South face of Mt. Islip to Windy Gap. This is a 1600 foot elevation gain. From the gap the trail proceeds around the North side of the mountain to Little Jimmy Campground. The hike is a two and a half mile moderately strenuous hike for younger boys. Water is available year round from a spring North of Windy Gap about a half mile before the campground. Water should still be purified. No Wilderness Permit is required, but you do need to check in with the Ranger. NO open fires are permitted.

This hike meets the requirements for the following High Adventure Awards:

- Training Hike
- Hardback Award
- San Gabriel Trails w/Little Jimmy Segment
- Hike in a National Forest
